

COLLIE WATER PROJECT – FIND OUT MORE

About the Project

The Myalup–Wellington project is an industry-led initiative, proposed by Collie Water, to reduce salinity in Wellington Dam.

It is a significant economic development project involving industry, the State Government and the Commonwealth, to substantially increase production capacity, create jobs and allow economic uplift in the region.

Community Information Sessions

Collie Water will be holding community information sessions where community members will have access to project details and will be able to ask questions and provide feedback.

Interested members of the public can register to attend one of the following sessions at the Collie Ridge Motel Function Centre, 185 Throssell St, Collie:

Friday 7 December at 2.30pm to 3.30pm

Wednesday 12 December at 10am to 11am

Wednesday 12 December at 5.30pm to 6.30pm

Places at each session are limited, so please register your attendance by contacting the Collie Water Project Manager at bedwards@colliewater.com.au

Other Information Sources

If you would like to know more but are unable to attend the information sessions, there is still opportunity to view the project details and provide feedback via the Collie Water website www.colliewater.com.au

Collie Water hosting community information sessions

The project will focus on reducing the salinity level of Wellington Dam Picture: GBTW

Collie Water will host three community information sessions for the Myalup-Wellington project over the next week.

In an effort to reduce salinity in Wellington Dam, Collie Water has proposed the most saline water flowing from the dam is extracted into a nearby mine void.

Hour-long sessions will take place at the Collie Ridge Motel function centre.

The first will be on Friday from 2.30pm with two more sessions set from 10am and 5.30pm on Wednesday.

Those interested in attending should contact the Collie Water project manager by emailing bedwards@colliewater.com.au as places at the sessions are limited.
